City Borrowing Power

According to a statement made to this newspaper by Alderman J. J. Ladd, chairman of finance, from the standpoint of its borrowing power, the City of Kelowna is in excellent shape and the ratepayers need feel no compunction about giving their approval to the two by-laws up for their approval on May 17—the by-law for extension of the city's electrical facilities and the Aquatic by-law.

According to Alderman Ladd, the city has used only 41.18 per cent of the amount which is indicated by the department of municipal affairs as a "safe" limit. In other words, the city could borrow more than twice its present bonded indebtedness without straining its resources. Alderman Ladd's statement should remove any final doubt in the mind of any taxpayer as to his course of action on these two by-laws.

The department of municipal affairs' yardstick indicates that Kelowna's borrowings should not exceed $2,049,973.00. However, at the present time the city's bonded indebtedness is only $844,100 or, as mentioned above, 41.18 per cent of what is regarded as the "safe" limit.

If the electrical by-law is approved it will cost the city in principal and interest $6,502 for fifteen years. Based on a conservatively estimated population of 10,000, the annual per capita charge will only be 65 cents.

If the aquatic by-law is approved the average annual principal and interest charges will be $4,325.00. As the Kelowna Aquatic Association has undertaken to pay half of these charges the ratepayers will only be expected to pay the annual amount over a period of 15 years of $2,162.50. This is equivalent to an annual per capita charge of only 22 cents! Yes, 22 cents.

The plain truth of the matter is that the result of the voting on these by-laws will have no effect whatsoever upon the success or failure of future by-laws that may be presented.

At a public meeting a few days ago, one speaker made the remark that "we should have a hospital first." In the first place the hospital authorities are not ready to present a by-law. When they are, it will be passed. The borrowing position of the city is such that there is plenty of reserve to take care of the present two by-laws, a hospital by-law and still leave a very considerable leeway. Whether these two by-laws win the ratepayers' approval or disapproval next week, they will have no bearing whatsoever upon the success or failure of the hospital by-law if and when it is presented.

It is not a question of whether Kelowna can afford to pass the two by-laws now before its ratepayers. It is a question of whether or not Kelowna can afford not to pass them. In the opinion of this newspaper, the people of Kelowna cannot afford to turn them down. They are a MUST. We simply cannot afford to turn them down.

Jobs For Graduates

The prospect of employment for university graduates appears to be less satisfactory than in any year since the war. There has been a levelling-off of expansion in many industries, as production more nearly satisfied postwar demand. This would leave only normal replacement and turnover of staff to open jobs for which new workers might apply. For this reason, the National Employment service has been urging employers, especially among smaller firms, to notify of vacancies which might become available in the near future. It is apparently the case that smaller employers have not been as conscious of the value of university training as the big companies, and do not now employ as high a proportion of graduates as their large competitors.

In some of the technical and engineering occupations, the problem is complicated by the fact that some firms have already taken on as large a number of trained men as they can absorb at the present rate of business. These lines of work are, of course, only an element of the situation, which includes nearly all of those graduating. It would not seem possible, however, that there could be any shortage of places for medical or dental graduates, if they were willing to go where they were needed. There was a proposal a year or two ago that the old method of "interning" a medical graduate with a general practitioner in a rural or pioneer community be revived. The proposal could be extended to suggest there would be no better preparation for any sort of medical career than a few years in the remotest parts of the country. The need is immense; the experience invaluable; the personal satisfaction limited only by the bonds of sympathy.

The same advice could in many cases be extended to young men and women in other lines of work. There is a tendency to be somewhat passive with regard to the first employment—an expectation that some existing business will provide the opportunity. This country is still a place where initiative and imagination may make new opportunities in places where they did not exist before. It is true that living accommodation might not be air-conditioned, or all roads paved, but people have lived rich lives without such things, and achieved much. Life holds a challenge to the young man with special training, if he is willing to make his own paths.

In 1950, however, conditions are not as simple as they were in 1900. Established industries and governments have a responsibility, too. There are many fields which have yet to be explored, and new developments which await only the enterprise to start them. What does not grow and change will die. That is as true of countries and towns as of people. What we need is not only jobs for graduates of 1950, but a policy which will provide places for all the years to come. The nation spends far too much in the provision of university education to waste the lives of those who have benefitted by it.

REQUEST OWNER PUBLIC ASKED REMOVE OLD HULK KEEP OFF GRASS

City will request Albert Raymer to remove an old hulk which is interfering with boat owners using the breakwater.

Alderman Dick Parkinson remarked that if Mr. Raymer could not remove the structure, that it be burned under the supervision of the fire brigade.

Two Money Bylaws Will Be Presented Wednesday

If Kelowna ratepayers approve the two money by-laws being presented next Wednesday, annual per capita charge over a period of 15 years, will amount to only 87 cents. This was revealed by finance chairman J. J. Ladd who at the same time pointed out Kelowna is given the highest rating by financial institutions in Canada.

Based on present assessment values, the city can borrow up to $2,049,973, but to date the bonded indebtedness amounts to only $844,100. In other words the city has only borrowed 41.18 per cent of its legal debt limit.

There are few cities in Canada which can boast a sounder financial position.

If the two by-laws presented next Wednesday, are approved by taxpayers, the city's borrowing power still remains well over the $1,000,000 mark. Although the aquatic grandstand bylaw amounts to $50,000, the Aquatic club had undertaken to repay 50 per cent of this amount. In other words the city's portion will be $25,000.

Passing of the $75,000 electrical system improvement bylaw is another "must" in the opinion of Alderman Ladd. In order that the city may revamp its electrical system and improve power facilities, it is necessary to borrow the money.

Mr. Ladd said if the Aquatic by-law is approved, the average annual principal and interest charges will be $4,325. As the Kelowna Aquatic Association has undertaken to pay half of these charges, ratepayers will only be expected to pay half the annual amount over a period of 15 years, $2,162.50. This is equivalent to an annual per capita charge of approximately only 22 cents.

If the electrical bylaw is approved, the average annual principal and interest charges over 15 years will be $6,502, or an annual per capita charge of only 65 cents. Both these per capita figures are based on a conservatively estimated city population of 10,000.

Makes Statement
Contacted by The Courier to comment on the two bylaws Mr. Ladd declared:

"I feel that as chairman of the finance committee, long as I make available our financial position, that my role as an alderman is completed, and that the taxpayers can use their own good judgment at the polls and vote intelligently."

"It should be remembered that before a money bylaw is presented to the public, the pros and cons (Turn to Page 5, Story 2)

BRITISH FOOD OFFICIAL HERE FOR WEEK-END

Sir Andrew Jones, head of the British Food Mission in Canada, whose headquarters are in Ottawa, will spend the week-end in Kelowna.

Accompanied by Lady Jones, he will travel to Kelowna over the Hope-Princeton Highway on Saturday and remain in this city until Tuesday when he leaves via Sicamous. While in Kelowna he will be taken under the wing of B.C. Tree Fruits.

MAYOR CALLS CITIZENSHIP MEETING HERE

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games has called a public meeting to be held in the high school auditorium to-night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of forming a citizenship council.

Representatives of various service clubs will be in attendance. Purpose of the meeting is to have a closer liaison between the various clubs doing citizenship work in the city, and also to help new Canadians.

The mayor will be chairman of the meeting.

ONE OF THE CITY'S OLDEST landmarks, which has witnessed Kelowna's annual Regatta grow from a small community effort to the greatest water show in Canada, has been demolished. Decision to tear down the structure was made by directors of the Kelowna Aquatic Association when it was found the grandstand was not safe to use for this year's Regatta.

Constructed more than 40 years ago, a recent inspection showed the eight of the main beams supporting the grandstand roof, had completely rotted, and in several instances, the wooden posts had come away from the cement blocks.

The picture on the left shows one of the posts completely separated from the concrete foundation, while on the right, the familiar grandstand sprawls on the ground, after being pulled over by a bulldozer.

It was an important decision the Aquatic directors made in demolishing the structure, but when the building inspector condemned the building, they had no other alternative.

Providing ratepayers pass the $50,000 by-law next Wednesday—50 per cent of which will be repayable by the Aquatic—a covered streamlined grandstand, capable of seating approximately 3,500 people, will be erected. It is planned to hold outdoor attractions six months of the year.

The new grandstand will protrude into the lake, and seats will be arranged so that spectators will be able to see water events from every angle.

Warm Weather Aids Runoff As Creek Nears Flood Stage

LONG-AWAITED spring finally arrived this week as Old Sol beamed down on the Okanagan Valley, and today an air of optimism appears in the present flood picture. Kelowna and district enjoyed its warmest day of the year yesterday when the thermometer rose to 74 above, while minimum during the past three nights has been over the 40 degree mark.

As was to be expected, the delayed runoff of melting snow in the mountain is making up for lost time. Creeks have risen sharply during the past four days and are near the flood stage in some areas.

Freezing level on the surrounding mountains has risen from the 2,000 foot level to 3,000 feet, and providing warm weather continues, a large proportion of the snow will start melting and roar down the now somewhat bloated Mission and Kelowna (Mill) Creeks.

Murky waters of Mill Creek that wind through the Five Bridges district, the south-central part of the city and spills into Okanagan Lake, is edging close to the bank tops in the lower areas. City gauge at the Water Street sewer pumping station showed a six-inch rise in the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today.

Forecast is for continued mild weather. Level of Okanagan Lake this morning, according to city figures, is 98.27 feet, almost a foot lower, compared with the corresponding date in 1948, the last flood year. The lake has risen .06 foot during the past three days.

Local officials are anxiously awaiting the April report of the provincial water rights department. The report is expected here by week-end. Local water rights officials have no up-to-date figures, as snow measurements are sent direct to the provincial water rights department at Victoria by those taking the measurements.

Last week, D. K. Penfold, head of the government department, was in Kelowna, and he stated the snow in the hills is much heavier compared with two years ago, while the moisture content was also higher. Mr. Penfold was the local water rights engineer in Kelowna for many years before being transferred to Victoria.

Providing clear, warm weather continues, coupled with cool nights, the snow could melt away gradually, with only flash flooding being experienced. Warm rains however, could play havoc with the runoff.

REGATTA MINDED

Rodeo centres may have their sombreros to publicize stampedes, but Kelowna is going to be original.

Hundreds of white-colored yachting caps are going to be purchased by the regatta committee, and will go on sale in local stores within the next few days.

Idea is to have every man, woman and child wear a yachting cap in the weeks preceding Canada's greatest outdoor water show. They will also reveal the source of the water rights to outside points for special events.

LIQUOR GETS INDIAN WOMAN INTO TROUBLE

Mary Manual, west side Indian woman, is spending a month and a half at Okanagan when she defaulted fines imposed in city police court.

May 8 by Police Magistrate A. D. Marshall.

On a charge of being unlawfully intoxicated she was fined $25 and costs or in default 30 days, and on an additional charge of failing to reveal the source of supply a fine of $15 or in default 14 days was meted out.

Priest Who Was Prisoner Of Nazis Coming To City

Announcement was made at Catholic diocesan headquarters in Nelson this week that a Polish priest who spent five years in the infamous Dachau concentration camp has been assigned to the Kelowna parish.

He is Rev. Ignatius Lenekowski, who came to Canada recently after serving as chaplain in displaced persons camps at Westphalia, Germany. Exact date of his arrival here isn't known but it is expected to be soon.

Falling victim to the Nazis when Poland was overrun in 1940, Father Lenekowski, with thousands of other Poles, clung to life in the concentration camp until freed by the U.S. army of liberation in 1945.

New Ambulance Contract Good For Rest Of Year

THE city is assured of an ambulance service—at least for the next six months. Monday night the ambulance question was debated at great length before city fathers agreed entering into a contract with James Fleck, operator of Pendozi Taxi, for the balance of this year.

The agreement, which is retroactive to January 1, calls for an ambulance subsidy of $40. Meanwhile before rural areas can benefit from the service, they will have to raise around $420. It was reported $80 had been collected in Glenmore, $36 in Woodlawn and Pendozi south, $38 in Okanagan Mission and $30 in East Kelowna. Westbank, Rutland, Winfield, Ellison and Benavoulin have not been heard from.

When the matter was first discussed, the mayor reminded council that the city had a three-year agreement with the taxi firm. He wondered what the next step would be when the new contract expires

COUNCIL GRANTS CONFECTIONERY COUNTER PERMIT

Following considerable discussion, city council Monday night granted a trade licence to Rufus Carl, for the operation of a mobile confectionery counter, to be located on the property where the Mayfair Hotel once stood.

The mayor pointed out council has no power to restrict trade, although several aldermen thought that type of business would not be an asset to the community.

It was stated the mobile unit would not be moving from one place to another, and that it would have to be hooked up to city water and sewer services.

TRACK MEET

Track and field eliminations to determine Kelowna Senior High School competitors in the May 20 valley championships at Vernon are under way at Athletic Oval this afternoon. Junior High eliminations are slated for tomorrow afternoon.

NEWSPAPERMAN WILL ADDRESS LOCAL MEETING

"How to win the cold war and avoid a real war" will be the topic of an address to be given by Elmore Philpott, well-known newspaper columnist and radio commentator when he addresses a dinner meeting of the Canadian Club of Kelowna May 18, at 6:30 o'clock in the Royal Anne Hotel.

Youth Gets Heavy Jail Sentence

Harry George Rashke, 17, last of the three-man theft ring broken by Provincial Police here last week yesterday was sentenced by Police Magistrate A. D. Marshall to a total of seven and a half years at hard labor.

But since all the sentences were concurrent, the youth will serve only two years, that being the heaviest sentence handed out on a charge of breaking and entering and theft.

His father and uncle were sentenced earlier for their part in a series of offences spreading over a period of 18 months.

Young Rashke, who pleaded guilty to 11 counts, was sentenced to one year on each of two other breaking and entering and theft charges, given one year on a breaking and entering with intent to steal charge and three months on another, six months on each of two charges of being in possession of stolen goods, six months on one charge of theft and three months on each of three charges of theft.

Offences included entering premises in the city and suburbs, theft of several hundred dollars worth of hundreds of dollars and consisting mainly of tools, and thefts from autos.

BOAT WORKS' LAND HANGS IN BALANCE

Future of the A. J. Jones Boat Works on Water Street, hangs in balance. Lease on the property expires next month and the firm has two applications have been received by the city to take over the property, as well as a letter from the boat-building firm requesting the lease be renewed.

Kelowna Yacht Club wrote city council Monday night to grant the organization a 20-year lease, on the understanding the property would be improved to blend in with civic centre surroundings and that it would be run on the basis of service to the community.

Two weeks ago, E. G. Jennings, proprietor of Jen-Craft, requested the city to grant him a lease.

Last Monday night, council also received a letter from J. E. Coops, managing director of A. J. Jones Boat Works, asking council to renew the lease. Mr. Coops cited reasons for renewing the lease.

The Jones Boat Works (he is now managing director) operations have been extended to various parts of Canada and U.S. (b) he (Coops) is now in a position and obligated to carry out suggested changes; (c) space would be provided for the yacht club in the present machine shop building; (d) surroundings would be improved; (e) ground would be cleaned up and graded; (f) the company has in the past, and will continue to promote boat building.

The matter was referred to committee.

CITY'S SAND BAG REQUEST TURNED DOWN

Efforts on the part of the city to build up a supply of sand bags in the event of spring floods, came to an abrupt halt when council was informed Monday night that sand bags are not being distributed by the army until a city or town is actually threatened by flood waters.

Writer of the letter was Brigadier M. P. Bogart, B.C. Army Command, who said request for assistance must come from the provincial government. Brigadier Bogart pointed out that numerous other centres of B.C. are also threatened and should sacks be distributed all over the country, there would not be sufficient to meet a major disaster.

CITY GRANTS TAG DAYS

City council Monday night granted permission to five organizations to hold tag days this year.

They are Hospital Women's Auxiliary, C.V.P., Dr. Knox Chapter, I.O.B.E.; Kelowna Junior Band Association, and the Navy League.

Dates will be allocated next week.

Gov't Will Resurface Main Street Next Year

THE business section of Bernard Avenue will not have a complete re-surfacing job until next year, N. M. McCallum, chief engineer for the provincial department of public works, informed city council Monday night. However, it is planned to lay a cold mix on the main street east of Richter Street.

Mr. McCallum said the cold mix would not be suitable for the business section, as the material would cause a great deal of inconvenience to motorists and pedestrians.

He pointed out that there is no hot mix work planned in the Kelowna area this year, nor are funds available for this work at the present time.

Mr. McCallum said instructions have been issued to L. E. Willis, district engineer, to contact city engineer George Meckling, with a view of working out a maintenance scheme of the business section which would be suitable to the city and the department. Council instructed Mr. Meckling to institute a pothole repair program immediately and also point out road markings on the main street.

Contacting The Courier, Mr. Willis said an effort would be made to repair the potholes at regular intervals, but the damage was so extensive during the winter months that it is impossible to do a first class job. He said some sections of the road, particularly in front of the post office, have not fully settled, but intended work will get underway when conditions are satisfactory.

Traffic Regulation By-Law

The following is a condensed summary of the regulations contained in the Traffic Regulation By-Law. Although this is not complete it is hoped that it will be of assistance in enabling the public at large to become conversant with the more important prohibitions and requirements of the said By-Law.

GENERAL

"Stop" when required, means a complete stop, not merely slowing down.

"Traffic" includes all vehicles whether mechanically or manually operated, and all foot traffic.

"Traffic Control Signal" means the traffic lights on Bernard Ave. at the intersections of Ellis, Pender and Water Streets.

"Vehicle" includes all vehicles whether mechanically or manually operated, except baby carriages and hand propelled invalid chairs.

Any members of the Fire Dept. may direct traffic at or near any fire.

No vehicle shall follow any fire fighting equipment at less than 500 feet unless they are authorized persons on duty in connection with fire fighting.

No vehicle shall drive over any fire hose unless directed to do so by a member of the Fire or Police Dept.

No one shall park any vehicle within 500 feet of any fire unless on actual duty in connection with the fire fighting.

"Emergency Vehicles" are all Police and Fire Dept. vehicles and ambulances.

On the approach of any emergency vehicle sounding its siren or bell all vehicle traffic shall pull over to the curb and stop and remain stopped until such emergency vehicle has cleared the vicinity. Foot traffic will immediately go to the nearest curb (or return to the nearest curb) and remain there, until such emergency vehicle has cleared the vicinity. If you are near a traffic control signal showing a green light you still must pull over and stop on the approach of an emergency vehicle sounding its siren or bell.

No traffic (vehicles or pedestrians) shall enter an intersection if a traffic control signal shows red or amber. If traffic has started into an intersection on a green light they shall continue on even though the lights change to amber or red after they have started.

When traffic control signals are on "flasher" late evenings and Sundays, vehicles approaching the red flasher shall stop at a full stop, then proceed with caution. Amber flasher means "use caution".

On approaching an intersection keep in your proper lane. If you wish to turn left or go straight through keep in the left hand lane. If you wish to turn right or go straight through keep in right hand lane.

When crossing intersections or at marked "cross-walks" remember the pedestrian has the right-of-way.

"Jay-walking" is prohibited within one block of any traffic control signal. This applies to the side streets as well as Bernard Avenue.

"Thumbing a ride" while standing on any street in the City is prohibited.

No person shall cause any horn blowing or unnecessary noise to be made by any vehicle except as permitted to traffic.

In the event of an accident the person in charge of any damaged vehicle must remove all broken glass from the street.

No vehicle shall cross from one side of a street to the other except at an intersection.

No person shall cling to any vehicle for a "lift" (This particularly applies to sleigh riders, roller skaters, cyclists, etc.).

No person shall obstruct or partially obstruct any street or lane in any manner whatsoever.

PARKING PROHIBITIONS

No person shall at any time park a vehicle:—

sign.

Beside any school or school property on any day school is in session between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

THE WEEK AT OTTAWA
by the Canadian Press

Specially Written For The Courier
By NORMAN CRIBBENS

OTTAWA — Communism was a No. 1 topic in Ottawa last week.

It was debated on the floor of the House of Commons, in committee rooms and at public meetings.

While everyone seemed agreed that Communism represented a dangerous threat, there was considerable disunity on the question of whether it should be made a crime in Canada.

George Drew, the Progressive Conservative Leader, urged the passing of laws by which Canadians who knowingly serve the Kremlin could be dealt with as traitors.

Laws making Communism a crime might drive Communists underground, he told the House. But they would also have the effect of putting many Communists "behind bars" of making it more difficult for them to attract "innocent fellow travellers." Many Conservatives shared this view.

Justice Minister, Stuart Garson, on the other hand, did not say that Communism should be made punishable under the Criminal Code.

He declared that the present provisions of various acts were quite adequate to meet Communist threats and that Mr. Drew's proposal was "unnecessary."

Mr. Drew Hits Back

The justice minister's remarks brought him into conflict with the Conservative leader on several occasions, to the point where Mr.
Drew retorted: "That's a silly statement, a very silly statement."

Mr. Garson readily conceded that Communism was a threat. But he took the view that any abridgement of political freedom in Canada would only further the Communist cause.

Mr. Drew still was not satisfied.
"Today our international trade is very greatly limited by the rapid extension of Soviet tyranny to so many nations throughout the world," he said.

He felt the time had come "for all of us who believe in freedom to take whatever steps are necessary to prevent the organization of an effective fifth column here in Canada."

Freedom of Movement

The same topic was raised in a slightly different form by Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative
M.P. for Peel, in the external affairs committee.

Mr. Graydon suggested that the unrestricted movement of Russian Embassy personnel in and around Ottawa should be investigated. He said it was time to "review certain aspects of the diplomatic exchange, structure."

External Affairs Minister Pearson replied that Russian diplomatic personnel were free to move anywhere in Canada, except in such restricted areas as Chalk River.

Mr. Graydon was not satisfied.
He said he would continue to pursue the matter in the external affairs committee and outside.

"I believe we have allowed a very serious situation to continue unchecked since the spy probe," he warned.

Government "Misrepresented"

The subject came up again—this time in Mr. Pearson's office. The external affairs minister received an eight-member "Ban-the-Bomb" delegation from the Canadian Peace Congress, which is generally viewed as a Communist-front organization.

The delegation, headed by Dr.
James Endicott, chairman of the Peace Congress, asked the Canadian government to urge in the United Nations that the atom bomb be prohibited.

Mr. Pearson hit back hard. He produced a leaflet the congress had put out saying that he (Mr. Pearson) at the United Nations had voted against a move to ban the atom bomb.

"I can have little confidence in the bona fides of a movement that uses this sort of argument to support it in the name of peace," Mr.
Pearson said.

This is a complete and vicious misrepresentation of our position.
The Canadian government with the unanimous support of Parliament is in favor of banning the A-bomb.

"But it wants to be sure that an undertaking of this kind is carried out by a system of adequate inspection and control. The Atomic Energy Commission of the United Na-

Protect Trans-Canada Route

Mayors, Reeves and townsfolk from Ottawa Valley districts decided to send a delegation to Toronto to protest against the rerouting of the Trans-Canada Highway.

The valley has been up in arms ever since it was announced that Highway 17 would not be on the main route of the Trans-Canada.
Many argue that the route via the Ottawa Valley is 162 miles shorter than the route proposed.

"We intend to let Toronto and Ottawa know that we are not satisfied with being just an alternative route," said Mayor J. J. Carmody of Pembroke.

Musical Ottawa

Many talented young pianists and many highly-trained school choirs came to light among the 7,300 competitors in Ottawa's fifth annual musical festival last week.

The six-day, all-day festival this year showed an increase of more than 1,000 entries over last year, ages of competitors ranging from five to 50.

Piano classes drew by far the largest number of entries, and pianists, young and old, received their fair share of praise.

The singing of 12 grade one choirs occupied the adjudicators all one afternoon and brought favorable comment from Russel Green of Birmingham, England—one of the four judges.

Many test pieces at this year's festival were the works of Canadian composers—notably those of Robert Fleming of Ottawa and W.
H. Anderson of Winnipeg.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CHURCH AND LIQUOR

Rufland, B.C.

Editor, The Courier:

"Dear Editor,—Please allow me space in your valuable newspaper concerning this morning's service at the United Church in Kelowna.

I always understood that a church was built for worshipping God and not for politics or beer parlors. The preacher is down on the beer question, but he never mentions a word about women smoking cigarettes, which leads to drinking.

Many years ago, General Booth of the Salvation Army, told me that the women in the slums of London, and other large cities, Paris, New York, etc., that they were the places that the Army recruited many women from fire through smoking and drinking.

Mostly amongst very low women prostitutes. However, I wish to point out to my readers we all know that God made Heaven and earth and all things grown on the earth, and including hops, which are growing all over the world.

Well, God did not say in the Bible that hops were not sent only to look at, but were sent for a purpose—to make good beer out of them. Our preacher and minister at the United Church does not say anything about why God sent these hop gardens. He did so that we could make good beer to enjoy. I feel sure that people who attend church on Sunday, or any other time, do not wish to hear this kind of talk, only for what they are supposed to go for, to worship our Lord and Saviour. Churches are not built for an election propaganda or political arguments, and if I do not know that I am talking about at the age of 50 soon, let the other fellows do it.

I oblige, Yours sincerely,
ALBERT E. HOMEWOOD.

From the B.C. Capital

Resignation of Hon. George S. Pearson from the provincial cabinet, after serving as a minister of the crown for seventeen years, appointment of Douglas Turnbull, Liberal-Conservative member for Roseland-Trail riding, as minister of health and welfare and the appointment of Hon. W. T. Straith as provincial secretary, were announced by Premier Byron Johnson.

The retirement of Mr. Pearson from the portfolios of provincial secretary and health and welfare, culminates a career devoted to public service almost without parallel in the history of British Columbia.

Mr. Pearson was first elected from the Nanaimo riding to the Provincial Legislature in 1928 and was returned at the general election in 1933, when Premier Pattullo invited him into the cabinet as minister of labor.

When the Coalition Government was formed in December, 1941, Mr. Pearson was asked by Premier John Hart to take the portfolios of health and provincial secretary. Thus for some years he guided the work of the labor department as well as health, welfare and provincial secretary departments. It was a big task and one that took a toll on his health. In consequence thereof, he was relieved of the labor portfolio, but health and welfare work of the province had broadened in scope to such an extent that it was found necessary to divide the health department into two, one to be known as health and the other as welfare.

Concurrently, the portfolio of provincial secretary increased in responsibilities with the increased needs of institutional buildings to accommodate the mentally ill, old age pensions, social allowances and the tremendous increase in government business with its attendant executive council orders. These exacting coupled with the introduction of hospital insurance provided too great a burden for his health to carry with the result that during the last session of the legislature he suffered a breakdown from which he has not entirely recovered.

The department of health and welfare, including the administration of the hospital insurance service, now will be undertaken by Douglas Turnbull, who was elected to the legislature for the first time at the last general election. Mr. Turnbull has had a distinguished business career and presently is assistant manager of the metallurgical division of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail. The selection of Mr. Turnbull provides representation in the cabinet for the eastern part of British Columbia. Hon. W. T. Straith will have added to his responsibilities as minister of education the portfolio of provincial secretary.

Dyking Appointment
Bruce Dixon, formerly inspector of dykes with the lands department of the provincial government service, has been appointed commissioner of dykes under the dykes maintenance act passed at the last session of the legislature, it was announced by Premier Byron Johnson.

The reason for the dyking maintenance act is that the governments of Canada and British Columbia, as a result of the 1948 flood expended in the neighborhood of $12,000,000 on the repair, rehabilitation and rebuilding of the dykes in the Fraser and Kootenay Valleys and elsewhere. Under this Act, the commissioner of dykes is authorized to inspect all dykes with a view to seeing that they are properly maintained.

These dykes have been rebuilt to the highest engineering standard and proper maintenance of them is the direct responsibility of the local dyking authorities. If maintenance is not carried out then the provisions of the act will be enforced by the commissioner.

P.G.E. Tenders
The fourth contract in the construction of right-of-way on the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Quesnel to Prince George was let to Jamieson Construction Company Limited, it was announced by Premier Byron Johnson following a meeting of the board of directors of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

The bid of Jamieson Construction Company Limited was $484,428. The contract covers from Mile 29.8 to Mile 42.3 or a little over 12 miles.

DEPLORES FANS' CONDUCT

Sir—What's wrong with Kelowna sports fans? That goes for Rutland, too.

A year ago during the valley hockey playoffs everyone thought Kenny Stewart was about the best player and coach around here. The fans showered him with gifts and applauded him until the rafters shook. But this year they didn't like the way he coached the Packers.

But when he tries to do his best in another sport, such as baseball, what has hockey got to do with it? I was thoroughly ashamed, sitting in the Elks Stadium at the opening game, to think that people with whom I live in a community like Kelowna, could act the way they did. I think they should go back to prehistoric days where it was natural to shout and act like apes.

A ball game should not be an open brawl nor should it be a place to sit like a lady or gentleman. But the fans should show a bit of sportsmanship, not just the players themselves.

Let's see if we can give all the players a bit more encouragement instead of pulling them apart.

A Very Enthusiastic Fan.

JAYCEES URGE ALL-CANADIAN PIPELINE ROUTE

Mayor Frank Golsworthy, of North Vancouver, regional president of the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce, was in attendance at the district meeting of the Jaycees, held last Sunday in Kelowna.
Mayor Golsworthy commended the Jaycees for their aggressiveness in pressing for such constructive measures as the Alberta pipeline.

Delegates from Osoyoos, Oliver, Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon, Chase, Revelstoke, and Kamloops, over seventy in all, heartily endorsed the resolution that the proposed pipeline take an all-Canadian route. Wires from the eight junior chambers have been sent to M.P.'s and the prime minister.

The Penticton Jaycees, who have strongly opposed the bridge across Lake Okanagan, were treated to an unusual "entrance" when they entered the Royal Anne dining room. Kelowna Jaycees had constructed a "bridge" for them to cross; thereon for all to see and ponder were the words: "BRIDGE, A MUST."

On another placard was further support for the "Government Authorities, Victoria." Getting in a plug for Kelowna's renowned International Regatta, the Jaycees stated on the same sign: "Canada's greatest water show west of the great lakes" and none shall succeed us!"

Comfort Stations
Clair Way, a member of the Penticton chamber, stated that there was a lack of comfort stations on the west side, an inconvenience during the long drive. President Ernie Gray, quick to take advantage of the opportunity offered, said that "Soon as the bridge is built there won't be any waiting and further, comfort stations won't not be required."

The Vernon Jaycees issued a challenge to the local chamber at the close of the meeting. The result is that Kelowna Jaycees will engage their northern neighbors in a roller hockey game on Tuesday, May 16, in Vernon. A return engagement will take place in Kelowna and District Memorial Arena on May 18, preceding the opening lacrosse game. Arena officials at both cities expect their floors will be well polished in the process.

FIND SCHOOL COSTS WITHIN ABILITY TO PAY

VERNON—An arbitration board decided last week that the Vernon school estimates for 1950 are beyond the ability of the whole Vernon School District 22 to pay.

But in handing down their decision the men on the arbitration board pointed to a grave inequity in the distribution of the total, among the constituent parts of the district—the city, Coldstream and the rural areas.
Under the arbitration proceedings set up in the Public Schools Act, the board had to adjudicate upon the estimates as a whole (approximately $500,000) and not on any one part of them. This regulation limited the board's action and gave no chance of the arbiters providing relief to the whole district by reducing the entire estimates.

The arbitration began on April 27 and concluded at noon the next day. The board consisted of Sydney Spyer, chairman; Gordon Lindsay, representing the school board; and Dolph Browne, for the two councils—Vernon and Coldstream.

NEW MANAGER OF AQUATIC IS ENGAGED

Percy McCallum has been appointed the new secretary-manager of the Kelowna Aquatic Association. It was revealed following a meeting of the directors. Mr. McCallum succeeds Don Poole and will assume his new duties immediately.

Four life guards will be engaged by the aquatic during the summer months, instead of three as in former years. John Kitson is the chief life guard and will be on duty from June to September. The other three, who will be engaged during July and August are Brian Weddell, Jane Stirling and Belinda Taylor.

The tea concession has been awarded Basil Jennings. It is planned to install a double sink, and the new plumbing will be ready for the official opening on June 7.
Carl Dunaway's orchestra has been engaged for Saturday night dances.
Directors also decided to replace the motor in the life boat.

LAKE RESIDENT SELLS PROPERTY

WILSON'S LANDING—Mr. C. A. Glasgow, who has been living in Kelowna for the past four years, has now sold his property north of Bear Creek to the Kelowna Sawmill Co. It adjoins the place they purchased some years ago from Maurice Chaplin and the Sealing Bay.

Mr. J. Casorso's flock of 2,200 sheep passed up the lake this week-end on their way north to their summer feeding grounds around Ewing's Landing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher, of Kelowna, arrived last Friday to visit at Nahun with Mr. and Mrs. W. Deighton. Back again from Penticton, Mr. E. B. Barmhermer is the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. Evans of Bear Creek.

Cherries are now in bloom here and orchard people are anxiously awaiting the results. Oleala is also blooming on the hills, but Oregon Grape has suffered much frost damage.

USE ASSESSMENT ROLL TO LEVY RURAL FIRE TAX

The rural assessment roll will be used in levying a tax for the rural fire protection area, it was revealed at a meeting of fire district representatives held in the fire hall last Thursday night.

Alister Cameron stated he now has the assessment roll from the assessors' office in Vernon. Delegates from Benvenuto, East Kelowna, Okanagan Mission, and the Rural Ratepayers' Association attended the meeting.
Routine business was transacted. Fire Chief Fred Gore explained that it was now unnecessary to have a large supply of water on hand to fight rural fires, as the brigade recently purchased a high pressure fog spray apparatus. It is proposed to have the same type of spray for fighting fires in rural areas.

Practically all rural fire can be controlled with the water carried on a fire truck, he said.

CONFIDENCE IS EXPRESSED IN TREE FRUITS

The North Okanagan District Council held a meeting last Friday, went on record expressing the fullest confidence in B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

The preamble of the resolution said there had been considerable criticism of Tree Fruits Ltd. and its sales policy expressed at a meeting held in Vernon.
"The N.O.D.C. at a meeting held in Vernon on May 5, wishes to affirm its confidence in Tree Fruits Ltd. and believes that Tree Fruits' sales policy has been in the best interests of the growers they serve," the resolution read.

NEED CUBMASTER FOR LOCAL PACK

A new Cubmaster is needed for the Third Kelowna Cub Pack. This fact was learned at the monthly meeting of the Central Okanagan Boy Scouts Association Monday evening.

The present Cubmaster has been moved by his firm to another city and in order to carry on the activities of the pack, another person must be found. Any gentlemen or lady interested in taking over the No. 3 Cub Pack in Kelowna should contact Nigel Pooley, chairman of the Central Okanagan Association. The pack meets each Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.
The report of the District Commissioner A. W. Gray was read to the meeting. He stated that the Glenmore Troop will have its presentation of troop charter and colors at the Kelowna Scout Hall Friday (tomorrow) at 7 o'clock.

The next big event for Valley Scouts is the Scout Camporee at Oliver on May 19, 20 and 21. Delegates from many troops will be represented.

SEWER SERVICE REQUEST MADE

City council agreed that a man erecting a $10,000 home should be entitled to city sewer service, and steps are now being taken along these lines.
Jesse A. Mann, who is constructing a home at 1821 Ethel Street, appeared before city fathers Monday night and requested sewer service. This particular district is one of few city areas where homes are not serviced with sewers.

City engineer George Meckling said a line could be run without too great expense.
A second offence charge of being intoxicated in a public place cost Oscar J. Gellinas $25 and costs in city police court May 10.

BRUINS' LINEUP TO BE CHOSEN BY WEEK-END

With the renewal of the annual boxa wars less than a week off, the defending champion Kelowna Bruins will be trimmed down to lineup size this week.

More than a score of aspirants have been turning out each night for practices in Memorial Arena under the scrutinous eye of coach Fred Oster. Despite loss of a few key men of last year, Bruins are shaping up as a team on a strength par with the 1949 version.

Bruins and their supporters will be in a minor invasion Tuesday night as the season bows in at Vernon. Club officials are drumming up a cavalcade for the occasion, with the additional color of a Kelowna High School cheer gang thrown in.

Vernon Tigers return the compliment here Thursday in Bruins' initial home stand—with all net proceeds going into a players' benefit fund.

ADDITIONAL SPORT WILL BE FOUND ON PAGE 4, SECOND SECTION.

KART Helps Hockey Club Plan Sports For City Kids

KELOWNA Athletic Round Table Tuesday night voted $100 to be donated outright to the Kelowna Senior Hockey Club, presently striving to dig up in the neighborhood of $3,000 to get "out of the red" on the 1949-50 operations.

Discussions over the financially unsuccessful senior hockey season was the highlight of Tuesday's monthly KART meet. During the meeting that unfolded a large program of summer sports for the boys and girls of the city, loans of $200 to the high school girls' volleyball team and $300 to the Kelowna lacrosse club, were approved.

While not one negative voice was raised about helping the hockey club out, especially in view of the $500 turned over to KART as proceeds of a benefit game last October, still many opinions were advanced on why the senior hockey lost money and what should be done about it.

More than one member argued the Kelowna and District Memorial Arena Commission should give the hockey club a better split than 65 percent of the gate receipts. Another felt the commission should have made good for the loss in the light of the $5,000 profit made during the winter.

Higher Admission

But when it was pointed out that all that money went back into completing the arena and that money will have to be borrowed due to a loss on operations during April, the spokesman withdrew his criticism.

Still others felt the price of admission was not high enough for the type of hockey provided this year. A one dollar ticket, instead of the top 73 cents charge during the season, would have more than covered the deficit, one member emphasized.

During the discussions it was brought out that the current drive by the hockey club and the commission was not faring well. Hockey supporters were reluctant to contribute until the financial report was out showing how much and why the club went into the hole.

This financial report is expected to be filed at the annual meeting of the club, tentatively set for the last week in May.

Sandlot Ball

Loan to the volleyball girls, advanced to help defray costs of the recent trip to the coast where they won the B.C. title, is expected to be repaid before the school term is over. The boxa club needs its loan to carry Bruins along until revenue starts coming in.

Sandlot baseball and softball for boys in the city is well on its way, chairman Jim Pantan reported. Some 32 junior high boys indicated their desire to play baseball.

Now KART has gone to the baseball club and other interested groups or individuals to help with operation and coaching of teams for games twice a week at Elks Stadium.

KART will supply bats, balls and probably catcher's equipment and keep records on all games. Discussions on junior baseball were along the lines carried in another story in this issue.

Three teams have been organized among young boys in sandlot football with games at Athletic Oval on Monday and Friday afternoons.

Minor Lacrosse

Several hours have been set aside by the arena management, Pantan said, for minor lacrosse. Every Monday night will be minor lacrosse night.

Help is needed for direction of junior, juvenile and midget boxa leagues. Bantams will be taken care of by Augie Ciancone, Pro-Rec instructor.

To Miss J. Fournier, high school physical education teacher attending the meeting on behalf of the girls in the city, Pantan offered the services of KART in organizing and fostering activities for the girls.

Minor constitutional changes, that include one whereby individuals may be admitted to KART membership, will be printed and distributed to the membership for perusal and a vote at the June meeting.

CITY PARK SCHEDULE

Times allotted for the various sports using The City Park this summer were announced this week by Jim Pantan, chairman of Kelowna Athletic Round Table, in charge of time allotment.

Requests for use of Athletic Oval should be forwarded to the Recreation Office, 236 Bernard Avenue, or to City Council.

Individuals or groups using the park at any other time may do so unless otherwise directed, the KART chairman explained.

Watering and care of the playing field in the oval will take place in the mornings and use of the park at that time is prohibited unless permission is granted by the field caretaker.

MARKSMEN PREP FOR BCRA MEET

Best turnout of the infant season was on hand at the Glenmore range Sunday for the weekly shoot of the Kelowna B.C.D. Rifle Association.

Those making aggregate scores of 90 or better on the three ranges were: George Kennedy 94; Ron Weeks 97; Dan Hill, 95; George Hill 93; Jack Johnston 91; John Wanderer 91.

Miss Meiba Kennedy, the only lady at the Sunday shoot, chalked up a 33 for the best score on the 200-yard target. George Hill was tops on the 500-yarder with a 34 while Weeks and Percy Rankin shared top honors of 33 on the 600 range.

Practice shoots are held each Sunday with the present theme on winning the B.C. Interior Rifle Association meet at Vernon June 4-5.

CRICKET LEAGUE AWAY ON SUNDAY

Spencer Cup Cricket League play begins Sunday with all four teams seeking action.

Kelowna will be at Vernon Farmers while Vernon travels to Naramata. Naramata will usher in the local debut the following Sunday.

Ball Games At Stadium Wednesdays

Baseball fans with an insatiable appetite hardly satisfied by the weekly Sunday game may be in for a fuller plate, according to plans revealed this week by the Kelowna Elks Baseball Club.

It is proposed to have a game every Wednesday night in Elks Stadium with opposition for the Elks Red Sox coming from Penticton, Oliver and Summerland, and points south. The three-named cities to the south have teams in the Okanagan international baseball loop, passed up this year by Kelowna and the champion Kamloops Legion (now Elks).

Negotiations are also under way to make Kelowna a Wednesday stop-over for American teams on tour. First of the mid-week sessions may come off next Wednesday, with Penticton as the likely opposition.

Roof Ready Sunday

Meanwhile, Elks Stadium has been a hive of activity both day and evening. Workmen have started on the roof over the stands along the third base line and a good break in the weather these stands should be covered in time for Sunday's game here against the league-leading North Kamloops nine.

Coach Dick Murray, somewhat bitter over the showing of his Sox at Revelstoke on Sunday, has been cracking the whip every night this week. Putting the emphasis on infield drill and batting practice, Murray feels sure the Sox will come up with a superior performance and knock the northerners out of the unbeaten ranks.

Yesterday Murray announced his infield had been shuffled for Sunday's game. Bob Koenig has been moved from short to the keystone and Garrow now is on the hot corner at third. Jimmy Lowe will take over the shortstop patrol on Sunday.

Kielbiski to Mound

Third-sacker Eddie Kielbiski, the club's best all-around utility man, is getting his right arm into shape to strengthen the hurling corps. Unless he is called in for relief on Sunday Kielbiski will get his first assignment at Kamloops Elks the following Sunday.

Reserves for Sunday are: Jim Middleton, pitcher and outfielder; brother Bob Middleton, outfielder; Cliff Strandberg, infield; and Don Peters, catcher and outfielder.

Admanas at Penticton

Rutland Admanas, winless so far in two tries, draw Princeton Royals Sunday, at Princeton. Neither has cracked the win column yet, but unless the game ends in a tie, either Admanas or Royals will feel the sting of victory.

Other Sunday games in the B.C. Interior Baseball League are: Revelstoke at Kamloops CYO and Kamloops Elks at Vernon.

All games start at 2 p.m.

DATES SWITCHED IN LADIES' GOLF FOR NEXT WEEK

In order to allow many of the golferettes to take in the annual fruit shippers' tournament at Penticton next week, a change has been made in the published fixture card.

This coming Tuesday will see the monthly medal round run off instead of the McTavish Cup competition. The McTavish goes the following Tuesday.

Also coming off this Tuesday is a hidden hole competition for business ladies, who have been drawn for after 5 p.m. as follows: M. Ryan and D. Leathley; J. Reekie and M. Anderson; W. Baldwin and B. Wilson; E. Disney and B. Emmler; F. Beaton and Mrs. Hughey; G. Mason and H. Burkholder; K. Kling and F. Perry.

Draw and tee-off times for the monthly medal round are as follows: (18 holes) 1 p.m.—M. Dowd and K. Buckland; 1:05—A. McClelland and M. Green; 1:10—G. Lennie and F. Wade; 1:15—G. Kerry and G. Newby; 1:20—H. Shilreff and R. Perry; 1:25—R. Oliver and T. Owen; 1:30—J. Gaddes and M. deMara; 1:35—J. Faulkner and S. Willis; 1:40—G. Johnston and M. Stewart; N. Gale and P. Cowie; J. Underhill and A. McClynn.

(Nine holes) 1:45 p.m.—E. Evans and R. Brown; 1:50—B. Jackson and S. Winter; 1:55—B. Popham and M. Willis; 2 p.m.—D. Hughes and M. Lea; 2:05—M. Rattenbury and A. Maitle; 2:10—B. Fray, D. MacLaurin and R. Clark.

Winners of the Scotch two-ball foursome staged on Tuesday of this week were Mrs. Muriel Willows and Mrs. Doris Stevenson.

ATTENTION ROLLER HOCKEY FANCIERS!

A meeting for roller hockey enthusiasts is called for tonight at 8 Memorial Arena. If sufficient men turn out a league will be started.

PENTICTON POSES NO WORRIES TO LOCALS IN HORN-LATTA CUP

Despite warnings from Penticton that the hey-day is over for Kelowna golfers, local tee-men are confident they will retain the Horn-Latta cup this year.

Partly responsible for the optimism is the smart showing of the better lights on Sunday as the team was picked to represent Kelowna Golf Club in the first half of the annual inter-club match at Penticton this coming Sunday.

"We're not worried," said captain Doug (Andy) Anderson brightly. "If anything, we're stronger than last year."

Return half of the Horn-Latta comes off here Sept. 10.

Carrying local banners into the first half of the fray on Sunday will be: Fred Williams, Cec Newby, C. C. (Gee) Ternan, Ches. Owen, Bill Carr-Hilton (he boasted a clever 74 on Sunday), "Monk" Steele, Charlie Quinn, Harold Johnston, Jimmy Allen, Trevor Pickering, Doug Disney, and Captain Anderson, himself.

VALLEY TRACK MEET PLANNED EMPIRE DAY

One of the best valley track meets in years is promised by Charles Gaddes, chairman of sports events for the Gyro May 24 program.

The valley track meet will be one of the main items on the afternoon program at the City Park oval and competitors will be on hand from Vernon, Penticton and Kelowna.

Among the entries from Vernon are two of their outstanding stars, Mark Phillips and Ian Morris.

It is hoped that a track team from Omak will also be on hand to give an international touch to the meet. Weight lifting, discus throw, and pole vaulting will be among the events scheduled as well as the usual track competitions. With some very excellent young athletes in the valley this year, the Empire Day meet should give spectators some thrilling moments during the afternoon program.

JUNIOR BALL LOOP LIKELY

Organization of a city and district junior baseball league appeared more likely than ever this week according to valley recreational director Jim Pantan.

Four teams—two from Kelowna and one each from Rutland and Glenmore—have shown interest, he said. George Yeohing and Herb Sullivan are trying to form local nines.

A meeting of team heads is expected to be called shortly to draft a schedule. Interested boys 20 and under should contact Pantan at 236 Bernard Avenue, or phone 1118.

Softballers Ready to Go This Sunday

Curtain on the tardy softball scene will be hoisted Sunday. It was decided at an executive meeting of the Kelowna and District Softball Association, Tuesday.

Rutland Royals and Kelowna Packers tangle in the senior "B" men's league opener at Rutland at 2:30 p.m., while Kelowna Aces take on the Coffee Royals at Athletic Oval at 2:30 in an exhibition fixture.

Aces and Royals were the only two teams to enter the women's play this year, tossing aside hopes of having a league in operation.

Royals embrace players from last year's Royals and REK Rainbows. Aces are the same jassies who last year, competing as juniors, won the provincial crown and the B.C. Teen Town laurels.

On Monday Also

On Monday Black Bombers and CYO 18 get their feet wet in league play, with a hook-up at Athletic Oval at 6:30 p.m., while at the other end of the Oval an improved CYO squad will take on the Rutland Royals.

Complete schedule for the first half will be published next week.

LAWN BOWLING OPENS MAY 17

Though play on the greens in The City Park already has started, official opening of the Kelowna Lawn Bowling Club won't come off until next Wednesday, May 17.

Members of the club report the greens in excellent shape. Membership in the club is open to anyone.

A team from Vernon is expected to be here to help lift the curtain officially next Wednesday afternoon.

HOCKEY LEAGUE PARLEY SUNDAY

Official delegates from the five teams—Kelowna, Vernon, Kamloops, Kerrisdale and Nanaimo—in last year's Mainline-Okanagan Amateur Hockey League set-up, from Penticton and possibly from the Western International Hockey League will convene here Sunday for the annual MOAHL meeting.

Presy Dr. Mel Butler of Kelowna will preside over the parley, due to start in the board room of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. at 11 a.m.

The following are names of donors to the trophy list for which the B.C. Interior Kennel Club wish to extend its sincere appreciation. The support of merchants and public make it possible for the club to function.

Choose a good day for the job, clear and mild when the surface to be painted is not exposed to the direct rays of the sun. One gallon covers approximately 800 square feet, depending on the condition of the surface. For new, exterior woodwork MONAMEL-X EXTERIOR PRIMER should be used first.

Shots Must Be Played Where They Lie—Mrs. Moryson Coaching Again

Committee heads of Kelowna Golf Club made some important announcements last week of interest to both men and women divoters.

Some of the males may be slightly perturbed by the latest edict, it was hinted, but as club captain Andy Anderson put it: "It all makes for a better game of golf."

All men are requested to turn in at least two 18-hole cards each month for the purpose of regulating handicaps. Henceforth there will be no teeing up on the fairway—no improved lie.

Grounds committee have decided that from here on in all shots on the fairway will be played where they lie. Also to profit will be the club's mower, according to spokesman Anderson.

Save Wear and Tear

"A mower was never designed to handle large wooden tees," said Andy.

The news for the ladies is of a different nature. Mrs. Tom Moryson, one of the club's top feminine artists, again has agreed to share her knowledge of the game. Those interested in her coaching should call her at 1242 L.

CITY POLICE AWAIT WORD FROM COAST

Provincial Police in Kelowna are anxiously awaiting the next word from Victoria that may lead to the end of the oldest territorial police force in the British Empire and their inclusion under the Royal Canadian Mounted Police wing.

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer announced at Victoria the R.C.M.P. will take over policing of the province by mid-summer. The announcement followed his return from Ottawa where preliminary talks were held with heads of the federal police force and the justice department on the change-over in B.C.

Mr. Wismer confirmed reports that headquarters of the B.C. Police will remain in Victoria and that the Mounties will not take over the provincial jails or the game department.

"We had most satisfactory talks, but final agreement will not be signed until after a survey of the provincial force is completed," said the attorney-general. The survey now is being conducted under the direction of Provincial Police Commissioner Roger Peschey.

Position of every member of the B.C. force is to be studied in the survey to determine what the standing will be in the R.C.M.P. set-up.

"We do not want any of our men to be affected adversely in the change-over," Mr. Wismer said. "The survey will give us the picture we need."

Plans For Noted Radio Show Taking Place Behind Mass Of Blueprints

BEHIND a mass of arena blueprints, staging details, music memos and production notes, Canadian born theatrical producer Frank Eckersley may be found these days planning the final moments of the Western Canada tour of the famous CBC show "Leicester Square to Old Broadway". This spectacular review of gay 90's style will tour all of B.C.'s interior points including Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton.

It's not as easy a job as some same time playing large arenas patrons think to present a full mu- which in past years have only been sical show for touring while at the used for sporting events.

Seating Plan

To begin, bookings were made of all cities and arenas where "Leicester Square to Broadway" would play. Then the seating and staging plans were assembled at the Frank Eckersley Organization, interior office, to study the best possible way to present a musical event in a large size house.

With the organization's past experience of such tours as "The Happy Gang" and "The Ink Spots" tours, it was suggested the best possible way for each location.

Consultations with spectacular Productions Limited in Vancouver, who are responsible for lighting the Canadian tour, brought brand new ideas in theatrical lighting, combined with a Hollywood premiere idea of carrying two 800,000,000 candlepower searchlights with the show for a gigantic aerial display after the performance, in the sky.

Gay Costumes

Mallabar Costumers contracted for the real old gay 90's costumes and scenery, which was made in their Montreal studios.

Meanwhile under direction of Harry Pryce the full cast of the show began working over ideas to stage their radio show—for not only listening, but also for eye appeal. The result has been a magnificent production that is now standing ready to go on tour. There's 21 stars from the Vancouver studios of the CBC including Isabelle McEwan, Bill Carr, Barbara Quartette, Eric Vale and the old stage, Wally Peters, special novelty and vaudeville acts, plus Harry Pryce and his full CBC orchestra.

The cast of "Leicester Square to Broadway" leave Vancouver by C.P.R. special pullman car on Wednesday, May 24, for the Interior of B.C. They open with the Canadian premiere of the stage version of the show at the Kamloops Memorial Arena on Thursday, May 25, at 8:40 p.m. The cast then travel to Vernon for the presentation at the Vernon Civic Arena on Friday, May 26. Early Saturday morning the cast pull out of Vernon for Penticton where a special matinee has been arranged at the Penticton High School Gym at 2:30 p.m.

Directly after the performance the full cast, with all the scenery, costumes and lighting equipment move to Kelowna to play the great night show at the Kelowna Memorial Arena beginning at 8:40 p.m. on Saturday May 27.

Ticket Sale

With advance sale on tickets now open in all of the interior cities, early reports show that the show will be sold out—and patrons are advised to obtain their tickets early.

Tickets are now on sale at the Kelowna Memorial Arena box office. It is expected that with capacity business in every location more than 16,000 persons will see "Leicester Square to Broadway" in the Interior, which will make a greater attendance than even the Barbara Ann Scott ice show in the Interior which also did capacity business.

May 24 Plans Well in Hand By Gyro Club

Preparations are well in hand to make the Gyro May 24 celebration one of the best on record. Sponsored by the Kelowna Gyro Club since 1933, this is always a red letter day for the kids. This year will be no exception, with plenty of fun arranged for both young and old.

Starting the day will be the pet parade in the morning, while the main program will commence in the afternoon with a parade down Bernard Avenue to the City Park oval where the traditional ceremonies will feature the crowning of May Queen Jerry Wilson.

Following Maypole dancing, the program will include a track meet and two new events—a fly casting contest and a display of acrobatic gymnastics by a picked team from the Vancouver Pro-Race. To wind up the day's festivities, there will be a big Gyro whirl and carnival at the Memorial Arena. This includes games, dancing to Carl Dunaway's orchestra, an acrobatic and trampoline display by the Vancouver Pro-Race and the draw for a large list of prizes.

Proceeds from the day's activities are used by the Kelowna Gyro Club on community projects, mainly the Kelowna Squadron of Air Cadets and the Boyce Gyro Park.

MEAFORD, Ont. (CP)—The last of a row of old boathouses in the harbor here has been torn down. Years ago, launches were manoeuvred into the boathouses after each summer trip and, when winter came, hoisted up on davits for storage. Nowadays, however, most launches are moored outdoors.

WHAT TO DO FOR HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

by JULIUS DINTENFAS

D.O., B.Sc., F.I.C.C.

In the past few years scientists have attributed high blood pressure to many causes.

Recent studies, however, have demonstrated that the majority of cases are what is known as "nervous hypertension," resulting from an imbalance of the nervous system. In these cases the blood vessels become narrowed, increasing resistance, requiring increased blood pressure in order to maintain circulation.

Recently surgeons have cut nerves going to certain blood vessels, hoping that this procedure would reduce blood pressure. Although the operation succeeds for a time, it does not appear to be permanent, and it may be harmful.

The chiropractic approach to high blood pressure is to remove any imbalance in the nerve system by spinal adjustment, relieving tension on blood vessels, with the restoration of normal pressure. It is true that chiropractic is a new healing art and people are always skeptical of anything "new." Yet the only way you can determine the accomplishments of chiropractic is by investigating it!

OTTAWA REPORT

By O. L. JONES, M.P.

Ottawa, May 3, 1950

For the last year and a half, we have been demanding that the pipeline from Alberta to the Pacific coast should be routed through British Columbia, have been told consistently that the proper place to deal with this matter was when the bill reached the committee stage. Last week this stage was reached and the much-disputed bills were before the committee of which I was a member. This committee is a standing committee to deal with railways, canals and other transportation. It is composed of members of all parties with power to call witnesses for and against the various bills that it deals with. But on this occasion the only people called before the committee were the two lawyers and the two engineers who represented the two companies applying for a charter. There was no opportunity given for corroborating the evidence that these people gave.

Mr. Maybank, parliamentary assistant who presumably was acting both for the government and as a sponsor of one of the bills, was looking after the interest of that particular company. He moved a limitation on the discussion in such a way that the various members of the committee had no opportunity to get the promised information. In other words, the railway committee became a "railroading committee." I, with others, sought information regarding the all-Canada route and from the answers, we gathered that an all Canadian route was an after thought thrown in as an alternate for other proposed routes through the United States. I say an after thought because the route on being questioned regarding this route disclosed the fact that his only knowledge was that gleaned from a train window on a one-way trip.

In answer to one question, he was not aware of the vast possibilities of development in the Okanagan Valley and a mimeographed copy of the proposed Canadian route ignored the whole interior from Trail to New Westminster. They presented a vague and inconclusive estimate of cost of the Canadian route in such a way that lead one to believe neither company had any intention of carrying out the building of a line through the interior. Even the British Columbia Liberals who are giving automatic support to the bill are worried, but to ease their conscience, they are making excuses. I quote a typical one made by Mr. Laing:

"... Unlike some members, I believe we have got to have faith in our board of transport commissioners. In addition, I have a great deal of faith in the petroleum and oil conservation board of Alberta. As it stands, I intend to vote for these bills, but inside and outside the house I am going to do my very best to build up an opinion in our province that will demand that, before any gas is exported to the United States, the line proceed through British Columbia and end in Vancouver so far as Canada is concerned."

He points out that he is going to do his best to build up an opinion in the province that will demand a British Columbia route knowing full well that the only opportunity of insisting on such a course is while the bill is in committee and before the House before a charter is granted. Once the company obtains a charter no public opinion or any other influence can divert them from any course of action that they wish to follow.

On the other hand Mr. Sinclair, the member for Coast Capilano, had the courage to stand up in the House and express his disgust at the conduct of the enquiry before this committee and frankly declared that as far as he was concerned he would vote against the granting of this charter.

He is the first British Columbia Liberal who has changed his point of view completely after the committee fiasco. Mr. Cruickshanks of the Fraser Valley being the exception as he has consistently opposed the granting of these charters. Mr. Sinclair outlined the vast possibilities that would inevitably follow the routing of this line through the interior using many arguments that some of us have been presenting for the last twelve months. He pointed out that there are three railways now crossing the Cascades and Rockies plus three highways, so it would not be difficult, therefore, to find one of these crossings suitable for the laying of a pipeline. He deplored the fact that neither Canadian Pacific nor the Canadian National Railway had then taken over the transportation of natural gas and oil as they are the logical people to transport all commodities on a long-distance haul. He pointed out that they already conveyed goods and passengers by train, goods and passengers by air and goods and passengers by sea and why not develop the transportation system to include gas and oil.

These bills have now returned to the House and must get the approval of the House before the companies are allowed to go to the Board of Transport for their final permits. It means that every member who is opposed to the charter in its present form will have another opportunity of delaying the passage of these bills. If that delay continues until the end of the present session, then re-application will have to be made at the next session of parliament. In that case I trust the companies have taken to heart the arguments advanced in this session and will place a clause in their application agreeing to build an all Canadian

The 1st Kelowna Pack under Mrs. McKay is very active. Members were out on a successful hike recently. They had some good games of softball and also learned that if ground looks boggy there are other ways of verifying the matter than stepping out on it. At least those who disappeared up to their waists will probably remember the point.

The 1st Okanagan Mission Pack under the leadership of Miss Marjorie Thomson went out on a hike up Dilworth Mountain on Saturday May 6. After the hike the pack joined up with the 3rd Kelowna Pack for their meeting at 4 p.m. The two packs had a very pleasant time together.

FATHER AND SON SOFTBALL GAME

The 1st Kelowna Troop, father and son game went off very well. The boys beat their dads 21 to 17. The fathers started slowly but by the end of the game were gaining fast. If the game had gone on they might have won. Home runs for the fathers were scored by Victor Gregory (3), George Ross and Harry Paulson. David Ennis hit two homers for the Scouts. The star of the game was George Meekling who won undying fame by catching the ball behind his back.

TREASURE HUNT

The 1st Kelowna Troop treasure hunt.

The rampaging Red River was the subject of a whole day's debate in the House. Interested members trying to induce the government to call the condition existing in the Winnipeg, Morris and other areas adjacent to the river, an emergency. A declaration of a national calamity or national emergency the federal government steps into the picture as they did in the Fraser River disaster two years ago. Up to the government is to declare this condition a national emergency but from evidence presented to the House it would appear that it is only a matter of time before the government will be compelled to take steps to assist the victims of this disaster.

A discussion is proceeding today on the amendment placed before the House by Mr. Drew. The amendment is to the effect that the government should take immediate steps to outlaw the communist party in Canada. The charges made by Mr. Drew that the government has not met the challenge of communism in an effective way was responded to promptly by the prime minister who expressed his belief in freedom of speech and freedom of movement in a democratic country, pointing out that the only way to defeat communism is to remove the underlying causes which are poverty, unemployment and bad housing.

That statement had the full endorsement of the C.C.F. group as that has been our contention for many years. We claim and sincerely believe that the only way to avert the threat of communism is to remove the underlying causes that work a call for superhuman efforts on the part of the government and with part socialization or part control of the producing machine of the Dominion. As this is a controversial subject I do not intend to follow this line of argument in my weekly letter.

As I have already pointed out, the $2 million subsidy granted to the growers to my mind does not solve the problem as far as the individual farmer is concerned and I have reason to believe that further assistance will be made available when the fruit now in storage has been disposed of and the final hunt concluded on Sunday, May 6 after the scouts had spent a week working out the various clues. The last clue led the boys on a hike to the new dam at Rose valley where they were joined by the Cougar Patrol who had been out on a pre-Camporee training camp. After two hours of searching three of the treasures hidden by Black Pedro, the Spanish pirate, were discovered. The other two remain hidden in their three hundred year old hiding place and eluded all efforts to find them.

MAIN STREET IS CLEANED UP

For the past week, city workmen have been concentrating on "clean up" Bernard Avenue, and today there is a vast improvement. The matter was discussed at Monday night's council meeting when members of the retail merchants bureau asked the city to take steps in removing the dust. Aldermen agreed that it is not feasible to wash the streets with fire hoses as the storm drains would not carry the water away satisfactorily. Dealing with several streets that will be hard-surfaced within the near future, Alderman R. F. L. Keller said it was not practical to lay the mixture until the temperature rises to around 70 degrees.

Institute Members Urge Women To Buy 20 oz. Cans Fruit, Vegetables

By ELLA L. H. PICTON

Each succeeding year since the end of World War II, has witnessed a growing interest in the annual Bally Day of the South Okanagan and Similkameen district institutes. This year the conference was held at Summerland, and last Thursday 200 enthusiastic members were registered prior to the opening of the sessions which were held in the I.O.O.F. hall.

With the opening time set for 10 a.m., which necessitated early rising for the visitors from points as distant as Cawston and Osoyoos in the south, and Oyanam and Okanagan Centre in the north, the cup of coffee with cookies served by the hostesses instituted to all visitors was heartily appreciated.

The civic welcome was extended by Reece E. C. Bentley, followed by a welcome address from the Summerland Institute, voiced by the vice-president, Mrs. C. Elsey to which response was suitably made by Mrs. L. G. Norman, president of the Kalamalka Institute (Oyanam).

The district president, Mrs. A. K. McLeod, who is also president of the Summerland institute, was in the chair with Mrs. C. C. Strachan, also of Summerland, secretary-treasurer at her left, while on her right, Mrs. L. G. Norman, president of the B.C. Institute.

gave only a sort talk expressing her satisfaction with the large attendance and the full reports, and finally told of a recent trip to Pemberton, a widely scattered community where an institute has been formed in the past year.

The tea hour formed a welcome break before the final business was introduced, and was greatly enhanced by two beautiful vocal numbers given by the Summerland ladies' trio.

Several resolutions were dealt with, one particular one being interesting in which the relative merits of the 15 ounce and the 20 ounce tins of fruit and vegetables were discussed. All housewives were urged to ask for the 20 ounce tin when shopping. This resolution is being sent to all other district rallies for endorsement.

Included in last minute business was the naming of East Kelowna as the place for the 1951 rally.

Name Officers

Officers elected for the coming year were as follows: President Mrs. L. G. Norman, Kalamalka Institute; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. G. Shaw, Windfield executive; members Mrs. Collins, Summerland, Mrs. Thomas, Okanagan Falls, and Mrs. P. W. Pixon, Okanagan Centre.

WELL-KNOWN RADIO SHOW HERE MAY 27

Arrangements have been concluded to bring the renowned CBC Tuesday night show "Teletown Square to Broadway" to Kelowna on May 27.

Largest musical show ever brought to Kelowna's Memorial Arena, "Teletown Square to Broadway" will have a cast of 21 CBC stars, including Isabelle McEwan, Bill Carr, Eric Vale as the Old Stager, banjoist Wally Peters, the Barbershop Quartet and a full CBC orchestra, under the direction of the well-known Harry Pryce.

This is the same cast heard weekly from coast-to-coast on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. Juggling and novelty acts have been included to round out the two-hour performance.

Fame Spread

From a simple start in 1938, the Teletown Square to Broadway production has spread in fame until now it enjoys an audience estimated at 12,000,000 in Canada and the United States.

Floor space of the arena for close to 2,000 seats will be used up again so as to accommodate a crowd up to 4,000 or more. Arena ticket office is open daily for advance ticket sales for the one night show during the western tour, "Teletown Square to Broadway."

Colored water squirted by home police later identified demonstrators, who were arrested.

WITHOUT PEACE

Nearly all our city friends imagine that because in a shack well removed from the metropolis, the place is a serene haven of peace and how would we like to have them over for the week-end?

In addition to working our occasional week-end guests to a point near exhaustion, we generally manage to give them all the peace and quiet of a three-alarm fire.

It was on a quiet week-end that the hot-water tank exploded; it was on a quiet week-end that the bricks of the fireplace fell in; it was on a quiet week-end that we lit the wonderful bonfire of leaves and burned down all the electric light wires.

Apart from such emergencies (blast, fire, flood, burned-out fuses, hit-and-run drivers), the odds against peace are fairly staggering. As I have reported, perhaps many times too often, we have a dog and cat full of surprises, and in this neighborhood there are, conservatively, eighteen thousand small children, all of whom are attracted to our back yard. There is hardly a week-end in which some small urchin does not walk through the house, bounding heavily from ball.

I have made the rambling notes above in a hopeless attempt to explain some of the events of the week-end which is, mercifully, just now over, and to suggest to our friends the Smiths (as I'll call our guests) that they are always welcome to return. At their own risk, of course.

I'll admit it was a poor beginning. When the Smiths arrived in the early afternoon Saturday they were met with a rather unimpressive spectacle. The back yard was full of demented children hobbling pitifully about on crutches, each with a leg bandaged from ankle to hip.

It was some time before our guests would believe that this was just the children's day to play "doctor." If they'd arrived the previous Saturday they would have beheld the waits flitting about attached to paper wings and carrying wands, a crew of the dirtiest-faced fairies in the history of folklore.

As it happened, I had just begun to roll the lawn when the Smiths showed up. My neighbor had loaned me his roller, and some number of approximately ten tons dead weight, and every cigarette and drink I'd had in my life was marching before my eyes.

Fortunately, my week-end guests seem to have a craze to pitch in and help out, and there was simply no holding Smith back. He got into some old work clothes of mine, which I'd just happened to lay out a few minutes before his arrival, and we had a fine afternoon rolling the lawn together.

We were a little hesitant about giving the Smiths the double bed on the porch, mainly because of the distinct possibility of our cat getting in with them and having four kittens, but they wouldn't think of anything else. And I was sure that Smith would have a good sleep, even if it were on a bed of live coals.

Needless to say, I did not know then that an eagle would come to visit us. Nothing like this ever happened before. And yet at dawn a real, live and very large eagle flew down from the mountain and settled on a branch of a big alder in the front yard where it was immediately attacked by a horde of angry crows. This is a sound which would wake the dead and at this precise moment that Jack the Topper appeared on the scene. I had completely forgotten about Jack the Topper. Jack is an old, but wiry, fellow who tops trees of a short nap before the inevitable appearance of the small fry. It was take off the upper regions of the alder. This he proceeded to do. Smith was just dozing off when there was a shout of "Timber!" and 40 feet of alder crashed in the front yard not more than 12 feet from their bed. Various sections of trees began coming down pretty regularly after that, a dozen children had gathered for an early-morning game of Run-Sheep-Run, and what with one thing and another the Smiths were strangely van when we led them up to the bus stop.

FUTURE NEEDS WORRY COACH MURRAY NOW

Call it coincidence or a two-base error, but I was finally getting around to pecking a few words about the man of the hour when in he walks, unannounced and slightly perturbed. In all fairness I must say I know he was in the room (though I didn't see him at once, my back was turned) as soon as he entered the door. You see, DICK MURRAY was in one of his rarer moods—"boiling mad" he called it—and a sudden rise in room temperature was perceptible immediately.

Seems the coach of the ELKS RED SOX was in a sour mood. To put it mildly—about his charges' showing at REVELSTOCK on Sunday. The man who played VERNON against KELOWNA for a coaching berth earlier this year, knows a lot is expected of him and he's out to produce or know the reason why.

In all the little over four years I've known Dick I haven't seen him quite so conscientious as he is this year. Coaching is his job this season—more so than during any of the previous three campaigns—and he knows tenure of the job depends upon results. When last I saw Murray he was "fed up," threatening to "take" and looking for "new players"—all because his boys played like a "bunch of bums" on Sunday.

No doubt Dick has cooled down considerably since then. He's that type. He'll get hot-headed with the best of them (LEO "The Lip" DUROCHER included) but just as quickly will get over it. But he

the doctor ordered. They could round out a well-balanced squad that could cope with the ups and downs that afflict all athletes now and then—but fortunately not all at the same time. So the call is out. Any one who sees the ELKS STADIUM every Tuesday and Thursday night.

A FLIP TO THE PAST
 Much in the local public eye the past three years (he's in his fourth successive year as pilot of the Sox) Murray has been playing ball. Mentoring in the OKANAGAN for nine into 20 years. He's just nudging 40 now, and a lot of that gray on the temples and sparseness on top has developed since he took over the coaching more. I recall one of the first I met Dick when he was playing shortstop for the team that year. It was known only as the Senior A squad and the outfit had lots of troubles in the six-inning interval circuit.

Fast will recall that old GEORGE BAKER was the coach at me jump-off, later relieved by BOB PHINNEY. THE KELOWNA BASEBALL CLUB sponsored two teams—Senior A and Senior B. Football star W. MURPHY and PETE CHAUBIN, season early season choppers, but both faded and ED-DIE KIELBISKI carried the load the rest of the way. The team included players who have all but given it up now—BUD GOURLIE, WALLY LEATHERSTON, DON KITSCH and VAL LEIER. DON McLEOD was score-keeper and later became business manager.

Kelowna ended fifth that short season that began on May 19 and ended before July was out. The next year Murray stepped in as coach, the team became the RED SOX. HAROLD COUSINS and DICK ZACCARELLI were the chucking backbone as the Kelowna nine ended second in the league and won the MITCHELL CUP in the much-disputed and never-played final against BREWSTER. In '48 and '49 the Sox again made the playoffs but could not quite get their hands on the pennant again. Last year they lost out in the final to KAMLOOPS LEGION.

So there you have a quick run-over of what Murray has mastered in the past, though always with just a skeleton crew and not much more. In this keen and tight league this year it is probably too soon to be worried about an early season loss. But just the same some additional players would be insurance for the homestretch drive. And it would be quite the do to win the pennant the first year in the league (I can hear RUTLAND ADANACS saying "Over our dead body").

ALDEN-ETTES
 Wondering about some of the fellows who cast shadows on the local sports scene not so long ago? GLEN O'SHAUGHNESSY has landed an infield berth with SOUTH BURNABY in the KINGS. WALLY LEATHERSTON, former coach of the BRUINS in '48, is with BURRARDS in the Inter-city Lacrosse League again... DOUGIE ROSS, who coached Kamloops box in that same year, is out with the NEW WESTMINSTER SALMON-BELLIES. Fireball HAROLD COUSINS is whizzing in there again for OLIVER in the international baseball loop.

HERB SULLIVAN requested special mention in this section for the year in the league (I can hear RUTLAND ADANACS saying "Over our dead body"). Glad to oblige, Herb... Sully is anxious to have all boys and girls 15 and up, who are paddle-inclined at all, to join the club. "It's healthy, beneficial and a lot of fun," opines Herb. The meeting is at the AQUATIC LOUNGE at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Election of officers, among other things, is slated.

FOR HEALTHY GROWTH
 Vitamin D in some form should be taken every day, all year 'round, throughout the growing years. Although the sun's rays are a source of vitamin D, smoke, fog and dust prevent the ultra-violet rays from reaching the skin where they form vitamin D. This makes it necessary to ensure that vitamin D is added artificially to the child's diet in order that strong, healthy bones and teeth may be developed.

Black-and-Gold Flies Victorious As KHS Repeats In International Meet

As reported in Monday's Courier, Kelowna High School repeated Saturday with the grand aggregate in the fourth annual international invitational track and field meet of the Penticon Kinsmen.

Of the 22 new marks established in the successful meet that attracted athletes from as far south as Omak, Wash., to Kelowna in the north, KHS was responsible for 13.

Two Inches Better
 Ephraim Day clipped more than three seconds off the existing time for the 440 yard relay across the finishing line in the time of 53.7 seconds. Previous mark was 57 seconds, set by A. Morehouse, of Omak.

Brian Weddell, valley high jump champ, had little difficulty winning that event among the open jumpers soaring to five feet, eight inches, two inches better than the record he set himself at Penticon last year. Given a good chance to cop the senior broad jump as well, Brian had to be content with runner-up spot, but he forced the winner, G. Brown of Princeton, to set a new mark of 20 feet. Former record belonged to J. Dunham of Summerland, who leaped 18.9.

Best clip-job on a relay time was turned in by the KHS intermediate girls who covered the 300 yards in 36 seconds, three seconds better than their own record of last year.

Other record-smashers of the black-and-gold were (previous marks in brackets):
 June Minette, intermediate girls' broad jump, 15 feet, 2 1/2 inches (14' 2").

Alwilda Minette, senior girls' broad jump, 15 feet, 9 inches (14' 5-8"), held by herself.
 Diane Fleck, junior girls' high jump, 4 feet, 5 1/2 inches (4' 5").

Wakabayashi, junior boys broad jump, 14 feet, 11 inches (13' 11").
 Walker, senior girls 100, 12.8 seconds (12.9).

Intermediate boys relay (440), 48.3 seconds (49.2).
 Senior girls relay (440), 55.2 seconds (56).

Senior boys 880 relay, 1 minute, 43 seconds (1:45.5).
 Complete results of the meet in the order of the events follow:

and juvenile B brackets is expected to start on Tuesday, May 23. A team from each class is expected to be entered from Kelowna, Vernon, Armstrong, Salmon Arm and Kamloops, according to Ray Giordano who attended the meeting as the Kelowna delegate.

Age groups for juvenile A and B are 18 and under and 16 and under, respectively. Ray said. The Okanagan teams will play two home-and-home games with one another while Kamloops squads will operate on one home-and-home basis, due to the longer travel distance.

Meanwhile Giordano is anxious to hear from any sportsmen or groups who would help him out with the two teams. He needs sponsors and coaches.

However, there are certain times of every day when our operating staffs and switchboard facilities are called upon to handle a very heavy volume of telephone calls.

Kelowna telephone users place an average of 18,000 calls daily—30% of these are made during the peak load period—from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Mrs. Mary MacDonald, Whose Grandfather Fought At Waterloo, Still Knits Socks

By ANN HUNT

Bouquets to mothers, and especially to Mrs. Mary MacDonald, mother of Mrs. Cameron Day, who celebrated her 90th birthday last month.

A trim, little lady with a gracious air, dressed in a gay print and wearing a mauve shawl around her frail shoulders, she reminisced on the days of her youth.

Busy knitting a pair of socks when the photographer snapped her picture, she proudly said, "This is the twentieth pair I have knitted since last May."

Alert, with a keen, active mind, she keeps abreast of the news and is able to read the paper. Crocheting is another hobby with her, and she displayed a beautiful lace tablecloth she had made.

She recalled the days of the "old oaken bucket" when water was drawn out of wells, and oftentimes, carried in buckets up from the river.

Those were the days of coal oil lamps, before the era of electricity, radio, and modern conveniences graced the home.

Fought at Waterloo
Tracing her family tree back to the eighteenth century, she spoke of her grandfather, Colonel William Goldsmith who fought in the battle of Waterloo with the British army at the time her father, Robert, was born in Belgium.

Her father, she recalled, taught school in Toronto when it was known as "Muddy York."

"There were no street cars then," she said.

Her descendants were among the hardy pioneers that heaved their homes from the bushland that was Canada. They fought in the Northwest Rebellion at the time of the Fenian Raid when their settlement was attacked by Indians.

Settling in Ontario, her grandmother brought the first cook stove into that part of the country.

Much of the early life of Mrs. MacDonald was spent in Muskoka where her husband, Alex, operated two mills in what is now known as "The Lake of Bays." The large, rambling house where the family of four boys and three girls were raised, is now a summer resort.

Mr. MacDonald died in 1900 leaving her with a large family to support, at the age of 38.

Longevity seems to run in her family, for her mother lived to be 90 and her father 82, while her two brothers in Ontario, John, nearing 88 and Albert in his seventies, carry on the tradition.

But it has been a full and interesting life, Mrs. MacDonald declared.

Asked to what she attributed her longevity, she said in her gentle, soft voice, "A strong constitution and good health."

She has seven grand-children and three great-grandchildren living. For the past 18 years she has lived in Kelowna at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Day, for a re-union.

Her grandchildren are Mrs. Doug Sutherland and Donald Cameron Day.

Her maiden name was Mary Goldsmith and she is one of the descendants of the famous author day festivities.

MRS. MARY MACDONALD
... one of city's oldest mothers and poet, Oliver Goldsmith. Recalling the price of lumber at the turn of the century, Mrs. MacDonald said that number one shingles sold for two dollars per thousand and third grade culls went for 25 cents per thousand.

On the occasion of her 90th birthday on April 19th, the family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Day for a re-union. Her daughter, Mrs. Blair Art accompanied by Mr. B. Art and Blair Jr., and Sharon, grandchildren of Mrs. MacDonald, came from Saskatoon, and her son, Reg MacDonald came from Regina to join in the birthday festivities.

N.S. Growers Make Plans For Marketing 1950 Crop Under Two-Pool System

WHILE the Okanagan is shaking its head over the difficulties encountered in marketing its fruit crop last year and wondering at the same time just how it will spread the apparently thin crop of this year over the available markets, the fruit growers in Nova Scotia have been having their own problems.

Details of an over-all marketing plan for the 1950 Annapolis Valley apple crop have just been released by the Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board. R. J. Leslie, board manager, says that while this may not be the first time a marketing plan has been made available in time to allow the farmer to plan his production, it is the first year in which a plan has been drawn up to take in account both production potential and marketing possibilities.

The plan, still subject to ratification by the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association and the Nova Scotia Marketing Board, calls for the marketing of the 1950 crop under two pools. Pool A will consist of 450,000 barrels of graded apples of the approved varieties; and Pool B will consist of any Pool A apples in excess of 450,000 barrels, and graded apples of all other varieties grown.

Approved Varieties.
The approved varieties are Delicious, Rome, McIntosh, Cortland, Crimson Gravenstein, Spy, Gravenstein, King, Wagener, Gano, Baldwin, Jonathan, Golden Russet and Ben Davis.

The Board guarantees to market all Pool A apples as fresh fruit, or to the more remunerative processing outlets; while Pool B apples will be sold, providing their sale will not adversely affect the disposal or price level of Pool A apples.

Each grower, through his sub-agent, will be advised of his individual quota for delivery of Pool A apples; but the plan will allow any grower to deliver his total production of Crimson Gravensteins, McIntosh, Cortland, Delicious, Rome and Spy, even if the quantity exceeds his quota.

The plan is flexible, and if a grower, in his own judgment, feels that the market next year will absorb more apples than the Board has estimated, he can grow and deliver apples in excess of his quota—but under the terms of the plan he spends money producing the excess at his own risk. The Apple Marketing Board won't "guarantee" to market it.

Cold Storage.

Other points in the program include:

1. Delivery to cold storage within 24 hours of harvest, for apples intended for fresh sale, except fruit sold for delivery fresh from orchards.

2. Central packing at cold storage plants, with the above-noted exception, and up to the capacity of the cold storage plants.

3. Elimination of culls will be paid for by applying the proceeds of their sale to graded fruit, or through the reduction of packing costs and storage charges. This arrangement will tend to force growers to eliminate culls by thinning or discard at harvest.

4. Elimination of barrels, except for special purposes which may arise.

The plan is not rigid. The Board states that minor adjustments which may seem advantageous as the season progresses, may be made, providing they do not impair "the fundamental basis and application of the plan."

Meet Demand.

The Kentville Advertiser, publisher of the heart of the Nova Scotia fruit belt, discussing the plan editorially, said:

"In producing and publicizing in advance a plan for the marketing of the 1950 apple crop, the Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board has taken a step which can only be described as sensational. The plan itself is bound to run into opposition from some growers who, naturally enough, will have other ideas as to how the problem should be dealt with. It is, however, a big step toward self-sufficiency for the Annapolis Valley apple industry."

For some years graded apples of approved varieties have been selling consistently at prices which provide a handsome return for problem becomes horrendous." "This plan is the answer to that horrendous problem. It may not be the best answer, but it is the best which has been formulated so far, and it has the majority support of the Apple Marketing Board."

"Under the plan nobody needs to cut his trees down, but each grower will receive a quota for the 13 desirable varieties which the Board will undertake to market as fresh fruit. If an individual thinks the Board's estimate of what can be marketed too low, he is at liberty to grow more apples, but they will go into a separate pool and will only be sold if their sale does not prejudice the price or demand for apples within the quota."

"In addition, growers can deliver their total production of the red varieties, in which the Valley has consistently failed to supply enough to meet the demand."

The advantage of the plan may be stated in simple terms. The number of apples likely to be sold as fresh fruit in any year can be judged quite accurately from experience. The plan, through its quotas, will show each grower approximately how many apples he can hope to market. If he undertakes only the expense necessary to grow that many, he should operate at a profit. In the past, generally speaking, he has been growing twice that many, and the sale of one barrel failed to pay for the cost of growing two.

There are disadvantages.

"Quotas are income, and tend to discourage the competent and ambitious man who would expand. But the industry is in a tight spot—and has been for some time. Under the circumstances co-operation, and a program which means some regimentation, are inevitable."

The marketing program will be particularly acceptable to those who wish to see the industry plan to stand on its own feet, regardless of past misfortunes, and independent of government largesse."

PENTICTON MAN PUBLIC SPEAKER REPRESENTATIVE

Clair Way of Penticton will represent the north and south regions of the Okanagan in the Junior Chamber of Commerce public speaking contest to be held at Vancouver later this month. The selection was made at a joint meeting of the members of the two regions in the Royal Anne on Sunday.

The subject of the discussion is "Canadianism and Free Enterprise." The judges on Sunday were A. Dawe, English teacher of Kelowna high schools, J. Thompson of CKOV and R. P. MacLean, Kelowna Courier. Kelowna was not entered in the contest as the local speaker, Les Wilson, had been taken sick and was hospitalized.

By the most costly fire that has yet ravaged a private residence in the neighborhood of Kelowna, the fine house of Brig. Gen. Harman, in the Ellison district, was completely destroyed by fire Saturday morning, with all its contents except a small quantity of furniture. Cause of the outbreak seems to have been the accidental upsetting of a kerosene lamp by a Chinese servant. Flames spread so rapidly the whole edifice was gutted within half an hour. Total loss represented a sum between $30,000 and $40,000.
